

Terms of Use

360 IT CONSULTING, France

Updated 15 October 2026 | Version 2026-10-15

Terms for the Houaryou Secure Core website, supporter downloads and licensed mods, including PropertyManager, CarWizard and protected map packs.

1. Operator and agreement

360 IT CONSULTING, France, operates Houaryou Secure Core at houaryou.com. Contact support@houaryou.com for access, licence, support or legal questions. The official supporter page is <https://www.patreon.com/Houaryou>.

Read these terms before downloading. By proceeding with a download or using the supplied content, you agree to these terms; do not proceed if you disagree. The Privacy Policy separately explains processing. Agreement to these terms is not consent to optional cookies.

2. Personal licence and intellectual property

Subject to your entitlement, you receive a personal, non-exclusive, non-transferable licence to install and use the content on your own systems within the account's device allowance. Intellectual property remains with Houaryou and the respective third-party rights holders.

Do not share, redistribute, resell, sublicense or publicly upload mods, protected packs, personalised installers, licences or account access, whether paid or free. Do not bypass protection or use someone else's licence. Restrictions on modification, decompilation or reverse engineering apply only to the extent permitted by law, including mandatory statutory exceptions.

GTA V, its trademarks and third-party components remain subject to their owners' terms and licences.

3. Patreon entitlement and former supporters

Available content depends on synchronized Patreon status, publication/upload dates, the period covered by your pledge and any gift or administrative access. Synchronization can delay membership or payment changes appearing on the site.

Active supporters can access content covered by their entitlement. Former supporters can retain eligible earlier content covered by their previous support period. Ending support alone does not cause the licence API to reject a former-supporter account; it does not grant later releases or guarantee indefinite online-service availability.

Licence checks normally accept active and former supporters with a valid licence, subject to device and account restrictions. Declined, unknown or ineligible status can cause checks to fail. Ask support to correct an inaccurate entitlement. Patreon payment, cancellation and refund processes also remain subject to Patreon's terms and mandatory consumer law.

4. Downloads and online verification

Some files are delivered directly. Licensed releases can be personalised OIV installers containing your licence, name/email in metadata, and your name in the filename. Keep those files private.

Licensed clients and encrypted packs use online server authorization with licence and device information. Protected-pack requests also identify pack, version and game edition. Connectivity is needed when the client requests a check. Timing and offline behavior depend on the client/version; these terms do not promise hourly checks or guaranteed offline use.

Choose the correct GTA V Legacy or Enhanced release and follow its instructions. Compatibility with every game update, tool or mod combination is not guaranteed. Back up relevant files before installation.

5. Device and account restrictions

The default allowance is three distinct device identifiers unless adjusted. Hardware changes or additional computers can add identifiers. Exceeding the allowance can block downloads, licence checks and debug submission pending review.

Administrators may restrict accounts for security or suspected misuse. Shared-IP rules can extend restrictions to related accounts and can affect legitimate shared networks. Contact support for human review, correction or an exception. Restrictions or failed online authorization can affect previously downloaded protected content.

A restriction does not itself determine refund entitlement or remove statutory rights. Do not evade it using another account or licence.

6. Support and diagnostic reports

Debug submission is available to eligible active supporters, subject to account/device restrictions. The browser tool previews eligible text logs before submission; supported clients can also use the licensed debug endpoint.

Send only information you are entitled to share. Remove credentials and unrelated personal data. Submitted text and account/request information are stored for support and can generate an administrative email. Retention and privacy rights are explained in the Privacy Policy.

Support access, updates and features depend on the service and entitlement. No fixed response or release schedule is promised here; mandatory obligations and specific commitments remain applicable.

7. Website and external services

Use the service lawfully. Do not attack or overload it, scrape protected content, misuse login links, submit malicious material or attempt unauthorized access. Keep your email/account secure and report compromise promptly.

Patreon handles supporter payments. External sign-in and content providers have their own terms. YouTube embeds are optional and blocked until allowed. Refusing them does not remove download or licence entitlement.

8. Availability and mandatory rights

Interruptions, synchronization delays, game updates and third-party changes can affect downloads and authorization. We aim to address reported problems but do not promise uninterrupted availability or indefinite support for every release.

To the extent permitted by law, we are not responsible for damage caused by misuse or incompatible changes outside our control. Nothing excludes mandatory consumer guarantees, digital-content remedies, liability that cannot lawfully be excluded or data-protection rights.

These terms create no blanket no-refund rule and do not waive a withdrawal right. Downloading alone is not the express consent and acknowledgment required for a statutory digital-content withdrawal exception. Any required process belongs in the applicable purchase flow.

9. Changes and disputes

Versions are dated. Material changes should be communicated through the service or an appropriate official channel, with agreement obtained where required. Changes do not automatically remove rights protected by mandatory law.

Contact support@houaryou.com about disputes or access problems. Applicable consumer-law and competent-court rules remain in effect. These terms impose no exclusive jurisdiction and do not waive an available complaint or dispute-resolution process.
